

Can a producer wrap lines of type with their name and address and the phrase 'certified by' in a circle parallel to the outer circle of the Organic seal?

No. You must be certified by a USDA-accredited certifying agent, and your certifying agent is responsible for final approval of labels for compliance with NOP labeling requirements. Labels normally approved by a Federal agency such as the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), Food Safety Inspection Service (FSIS), or the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (BATF) must be approved by those regulatory agencies.
